

Navisa Hunter

Navisa Yasmin Hunter is originally from Germany with Sudanese roots. She is a Reggae/Neo Soul singer and songwriter that is known for her sultry, smooth voice. She's been active in the music scene in Germany since the age of 18. She started out as a Background Singer in a Reggae/Calypso Band and then started singing hooks for artists and multiple music projects until she moved to the USA in 2005. She took a break from music for five to six years until she decided to find musicians to work within the DMV area where she resided. From there the ball went rolling and she soon found a band that she worked with for a while. Navisa is one of the Lead Singers of the well known local Reggae Band "Shamans of Sound" of DC. In 2019 the band won the "Wammie Award" for best Reggae Artist/ Reggae Group with their self titled single "Shamans of Sound" that she sang lead on.

During the Covid Pandemic she has mostly worked on writing new songs and been working on new projects outside from the band. She was featured on a Single with Jade Tremba, called " Woman you are a Queen". A song of sisterhood, empowerment and appreciation for all the wonderful women in this world. The songs that she writes are positive, uplifting and encouraging. But, the songs also make the listener aware of current events and the turmoil in the world.

Outside from music, Navisa is very family oriented. She has three children that are highly involved in sports. And she is married to an also very creative husband that is an amazing Visual Artist. She works at a Language School, tutors German and gives Vocal Lessons to young children. Besides all of that she also makes handmade jewelry out of crystals and copper wire, beads and more. Art is her true passion and she loves to surround herself with it and inspire others.