

Tosca E. Blandford-Bynoe, Esq.

Tosca E. Blandford-Bynoe is a dedicated public servant and lifelong child advocate. She has been practicing law in the public sector for over 25 years. As a Deputy Attorney General in the State of New Jersey with the Division of Law, she has spent over 20 years working to ensure the health, safety and welfare of children. In 2013, Ms. Blandford Bynoe became one of four Section Chiefs in the State, helping to strengthen the quality of legal representation the Division of Law provides to the Department of Children and Families.

Ms. Blandford Bynoe started her career as a public servant in 1986, after graduating college, when she joined the Division of Criminal Justice as a State Investigator. Later, she went on to the Office of Victim Witness Advocacy, where she worked on policy initiatives recognizing the rights of crime victims.

Ms. Blandford Bynoe's passion and commitment to young people is evidenced in her longstanding effort to use athletics as a vehicle to challenge and develop their character from within. She is well recognized for her work within the track and field community, as a coach with Willingboro Track Club since 1991, serving young athletes throughout South Jersey and Willingboro High School, since 2001. Through this labor of love, she has helped numerous young people realize their potential as student athletes.

Additionally, Ms. Blandford Bynoe is an adjunct professor at Camden County College in Blackwood, New Jersey.
