

Summer Willow Fitch, MBA

Summer Willow Fitch is a transformational leader with over 20 years of experience delivering measurable results in program and process management initiatives for diverse groups. She holds a B.A. in Communication Studies and Organizational Management from West Chester University, an MBA in Business Administration and Entrepreneurship from Eastern University and is currently studying for a Masters in Marriage and Family Therapy. When she was 9 years old, she launched her first entrepreneurial venture - a maid service, and by age 25 she created a traveling mixology service affectionately called, In Good Spirits Bartending Service. Business operations and job creation for marginalized visionaries ignited a fire for Summer that propelled her to begin advising hundreds of emerging entrepreneurs navigating to success while fighting inequitable systems.

Summer now holds multiple certifications in diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) and Restorative Justice and is skilled in facilitating learning experiences through curriculum and training design. Currently, Summer is the Sr. Partner/Principal of KABOD Consulting Group LLC; an emerging consulting agency specializing in small business and organizational training and development. She is grateful to play a part in ushering in organizational culture improvements, small business triumphs, individual mindset shifts, and overall sustainable transformations.
