

Mia Hart

Mia Hart is a lifelong New Jersey resident and mother of a 21-year-old, Naijah, a third-year student at Fairleigh Dickinson University where she studies Marketing. A certified mixologist and hospitality professional, Mia is the owner and lead mixologist of Keep It Cordial Mobile Mixology Services, LLC. Keep It Cordial was established in 2018 and serves delicious, handcrafted cocktails (mock-tails) for corporate events, social events, and other special occasions throughout South Jersey, the Greater Philadelphia Area and beyond. Mia leads a team of mixologists that curate a one-of-a-kind, elevated experience.

Additionally, Mia is the Director of Education and Employment Programs at a NJ nonprofit organization. She has nearly 20 years' experience working with adult learners of various levels: literacy and basic skills, high school equivalency prep, continuing education programs, and customized corporate training. Becoming a mother her senior year of high school, Mia recognizes the significance of having a support system to pursue and accomplish your educational pursuits and professional goals. As an extension of that, Mia is a board member of Motivating Young Moms (MYM) which is an organization that encourages, inspires, and motivates mothers between the ages of 14-19; fostering relationships that will allow them to develop both personally and professionally. The work that Mia does in all realms is extremely fulfilling to her as she strives to make an impact on all who experience her.
