Crystal S. Herring is a powerful woman of God and as a writer her favorite verse is Psalm 45:1 My heart is inditing a good matter: I speak of the things which I have made touching to the King: my tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

As a child of God she walks in her Godly appointed and anointed gifts as an author, playwright, podcaster, entrepreneur and speaker. She has authored the impactful and anointed book Aurora and the Aurora study guide. Her second book Children of light will be yet another book that will cause everyone of any age to reflect, connect and expect more from God, grow closer to God and seek God for themselves on another level. She has written over three plays and counting. Her joy for writing was started at an early age to express her feelings for the loss of her grandmother.

Crystal started a self-publishing company called E6 because everything that she writes is about putting on the armour of God and walking in purpose.

Crystal S. Herring is the wife to an amazing kingdom man Dr. Tarron Herring who encourages and lifts her up. She has three wonderful girls that are her inspiration and her constant cheerleaders. Crystal uses her voice as a podcaster on the He Called Me Ezer Podcast to ignite and remind women of God who they are and the power they hold as daughters of the king. Crystal S. Herring has a divine agitation to ensure that women of God know that they are seen, they are loved, they are chosen, they are worthy and they are more than enough.
